

H. R. 361.

REPORTED BY THE COMMITTEE OF CLAIMS.

JANUARY 10, 1827.

Read twice, and committed to a Committee of the Whole House to day.

A BILL

For the relief of the representatives of John P. Cox.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives
2 of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That 3 the proper accounting officers of the Treasury credit, on the 4 account of the late John P. Cox, the sum of eight hundred 5 twenty-two dollars fifty-five cents, being the balance of two 6 thousand five hundred eighty-seven dollars thirty-seven and a 7 half cents, which was feloniously stolen from him, without his 8 fault or neglect, on the twenty-fourth of October, eighteen
9 hundred and fourteen, and which was in his hands as Pay-
10 master to the first regiment of New York Militia, in the ser-
11 vice of the United States: Provided, That the representatives
12 of the said John P. Cox shall produce to said accounting offi-13 cers satisfactory receipts of the payment of the costs that have 14 arisen on the suit, commenced for the recovery of said ba-15 lance; and, if judgment shall have been rendered before the 16 taking effect of this act, said judgment shall be discharged by 17 the Agent of the Treasury, on the payment of the costs.
